PLAYING THE GAME

Perhaps it is just a coincidence, but in the past week in conversation with a couple of friends on totally divergent subjects they both used practically the same expression, referring to certain men under discussion: "I like him because he plays the game straight."

It was just another way of paying a high compliment to the integrity and reliability of the persons we were talking about; a tribute to their dependability.

Another expression which is in common of the highest order is: "You can always put your finger on him."

I often wonder if we realize the value of a reputation for dependability, both as to word and action. It has always been my contention that no man is better than his word. If that is not good, he is, to put it plainly, no good.

I like the class of people who stay put, that is those who having once given their word, you know that their promises will be fulfilled. I do not like the "back and fill" kind, those human insects, who like flies, are jumping in any and every direction. Neither do I feel inclined to make friends or traffic with the smart boys who believe that promises, like flies, are only made to be broken. There is still another group, those that play both ends against the middle, that makes me grind my teeth with impotent rage.

And I get high blood pressure when I encounter the side-stepping variety, those who have not enough intellectual fortitude to face the music. Perhaps my philosophy of life is as wet as the recent 15-day period of moisture we had, but I have no use for opportunists—the men who would push their mothers.

Extradition Of Ann's Mother Will Be Asked

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—UP—Extradition of Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt McCarter from New Jersey to face mayhem charges in connection with the sterilization of her 21 year old daughter, Ann Cooper Hewitt, will be undertaken immediately, Assistant District Attorney August Forster said today.

Mrs. McCarter is under arrest on a charge of attempted suicide after Jersey City police found her in a dangerous condition as a result of an asserted overdose of a narcotic. Attempted suicide is a felony in New Jersey.

Miss Hewitt expressed concern over her mother's condition. "I'm sorry, of course," she said, "that anyone I knew had addressed, attempted suicide. But there is no use pretending a relationship which does not exist. I haven't had a mother in the real sense of the word."

A $500,000 civil damage action against Mrs. McCarter, Drs. Tilton E. Tillman and Samuel G. Boyd, and state psychiatrist Mrs. Mary Scully has been filed by Miss Hewitt, through her attorney, Russell Tyler.

Also pending is a criminal action accusing Mrs. McCarter and the two physicians of mayhem. Municipal Judge Sylvain Lazarus has continued for one week his scheduled holding of the two physicians for Superior court trial. The delay was indicated as being allowed to permit the defense to challenge Lazarus' authority and validity of the charges.

REVOLT LEADERS ARE SUICIDES

900 REBELS SURRENDER TO SOLDIERS

TOKYO, Sunday, March 1.—UP—The military revolt of a group of young army officers, leading upwards of 900 soldiers was completely crushed today when the last of the officers surrendered to authorities.

Between 30 and 40 of them were under arrest, awaiting trial by court martial. Four were reported to have committed suicide, one by shooting himself and three by seppuku, "honorable suicide," as an "example to the nation."

SEEK SUICIDE

Such suicides involve disembowelment by plunging short, razor-edged daggers into the abdomen and drawing them across from side to side. The report of the deaths was not confirmed immediately.

Most observers believed the others would seek self-destruction rather than go to trial.

Premier Keisuke Okada, who had been officially announced as one of five statesmen assassinated in the revolt, meanwhile resumed office, having escaped when his brother-in-law, Colonel Denzo Matsuo, sacrificed himself and faced the assassins in place of the premier.

IN CONSULTATION

He and other politicians, army and navy heads and princes of the blood were engaged in consultations on the formation of a new government.

All of the 900 enlisted men who took part in the revolt yielded to the orders of the emperor and surrendered. The last of them, marched through a cold, cloudy dawn to give themselves up "and face what."

Suspects Are Questioned In Local Robbery

Suspected of the robbery of Louie Anderson, of 1511 San Pablo avenue, Richmond, two men were being held in the Berkeley city jail as suspects in the case.

Harry Kauppi, 40, of 1970 Tenth street, Berkeley and Everett Matson, 32, of the same address, were being questioned by local and Berkeley officers.

According to a report made by Anderson to El Cerrito police, he and two men went to an El Cerrito cafe and then went for a ride. Somewhere in Richmond, Anderson said, his two companions robbed him.

He was unable to tell how much money was taken from him. His vague description of the two men resulted in the arrest of Kauppi and Matson.

Japs Will Raid Diplomatic Mail

MOSCOW, Feb. 29.—UP—The foreign office today announced that it had been informed "reliably" from Khabarovsk that Japanese military authorities had decided soon to begin raiding Soviet diplomatic couriers bringing diplomatic mail from Russia to Soviet consulates in Manchukuo.

The raids, it was said, will be entrusted to the railroad police force, which includes many Japanese and white Russians.

It was announced also that the Mongolian and Manchukuoan governments had exchanged notes, blaming the others for the border clash of February 12 in which deaths occurred on each side.

Ruth McCord Trial Resumes Monday

25 Years A Dean

LONDON, Feb. 29.—UP—Countess von Haugwitz-Reventlow, the former Barbara Hutton, Woolworth heiress, was conceded a good chance to live tonight, although previously her life had been despaired of.

The Countess was gravely ill from an abdominal operation which was performed three days after the birth of her son. She was not yet out of danger, but she was said to be very much better and to have shown great improvement. The baby was in excellent condition.

KING'S DOCTOR

Lord Herder, the King's physician, visited her this evening, interrupting a week-end in the country, as previously planned. He found her condition very satisfactory, although the crisis has not been passed.

The worst period of her illness was Friday night, when for a time her life was despaired of and she was not expected to live until morning.

Otten reported that he was driving a new light delivery truck down the avenue, that he lost control of the machine and it crashed into a power pole. The machine was badly wrecked and the power pole was damaged.

In the second accident, cars driven by A. A. Axelson, 44 Seismic avenue and Ralph Johnson, 418 Twentieth street were badly damaged. No one was injured. The crash happened at Barrett and Mount.

WILL WED

MARTINEZ, Feb. 29.—Notice of intention to wed was filed with the county clerk today by Warren Brown, Jr., 23, of 461 Twentieth street, Richmond, and Audra Nell Wilson, 25, of 717 Blaisdell avenue, Richmond.

Five Of Seven Liquor Pleas Turned Down

MARTINEZ, Feb. 29.—Applicants whose liquor licenses had been denied, and who had petitioned for a hearing, did not fare very well at the hands of George M. Stout, state administrator of the liquor control division of the State Board of Equalization, who conducted the quiz at the Hall of Records here this afternoon.

Only one of the applicants was successful in running the gauntlet, Peter Ostergaard, of 510 San Pablo avenue, El Cerrito. Although complaints had been lodged against his conduct of the place, Stout not only indicated that there was no real basis for the objections but that he would recommend the issuance of the license.

Florence Evans, who runs the Pup Cafe at 940 San Pablo Avenue, El Cerrito, asked and was granted a week's postponement on the hearing of her application, which

Six Students Try To Borrow Bear For Circus

Six University of California students were reprimanded by local police and then released after they allegedly attempted to "borrow" a large model of a bear used for advertising purposes at San Pablo and Columbia avenues. The boys said they wanted the bear for the "Big C Sirkus" at the university.

The boys were discovered attempting to load the bear on a truck by Patrolman Floyd Gilbert of El Cerrito who notified local police.

They gave their names as Charles D. Barker, 20; William Suddam, 22; William Crawford, 21; Sam G. Dolma, Jr., 22; J. H. Sexton, 22, all of 2717 Hearst avenue, a Berkeley and Henry C. Markwart, 23, of 280 Indian Road, Piedmont.

SCOUT LEADERS

Members and executives of the Richmond Boy Scout organization attended the opening day's session of a leaders' training course on senior scouting at the Berkeley over-night camp. More than a dozen local Scouters, headed by Executive Donald Seaman, attended the course.

B. X. Tucker, principal of the Richmond Union high school and B. O. Wilson, county superintendent of schools, were two of the speakers at yesterday's meeting. Victor Lindblad and Oscar Kirkham, two Scout officials, also addressed the group.

The sessions will be resumed this morning at 8 o'clock at a Berkeley and Henry C. Markwart, 23, of 280 Indian Road, Piedmont.

EL CERRITO CANDIDATES CROWD FIELD

With the primary election only a few days more than one month away, El Cerrito has entered the "warm-up" stage in preparation for the day voters of that city will trudge to the polls and elect three councilmen and a city clerk.

So far the city clerk's battle has proved to be of the utmost interest to the voters of the neighboring community. Somewhere between ten and 20 persons are mentioned as possible candidates for the office now held by Miss Margaret O'Connell. Miss O'Connell, who replaced Fred J. Prosser who resigned while incarcerated at the county jail for failure to pay back alimony, will not seek re-election, it is understood.

MANY CANDIDATES

Prominently mentioned as candidates for the city clerkship are Jack Stoddard, S. C. Masterson, Jr., Mrs. Blake McNeill, Mrs. Hershey, Al Hester, William Allen and several others. Of the above-named candidates, young Stoddard filed his nominating petition on February 24.

The terms of three members of the city council expire this year. They are J. R. Beck, former mayor who is a deputy sheriff; Peter Larson and William F. Huber. These men will seek re-election to their posts.

LEE HAS FILED

Phil A. Lee, former city councilman, will be a candidate for the council position. He has filed his papers. In addition to Lee, Charles Kaufman and Don Kister have been mentioned as possible candidates.

The primary election will be held on April 5. Registration of voters for this election will close on March 4.

Political observers anticipate a hot campaign in El Cerrito with many interesting developments day by day.

Arrested Man Is Treated For Injured Shoulder

Picked up in front of the Fox theater last night on a vagrancy charge, Frank Murphy, a nomad, complained to arresting officers that his shoulder and arm were aching.

Police took him to the Richmond Cottage Hospital where an examination by physicians revealed that he had broken his right collarbone. Murphy told officers that he probably sustained the injury when he fell from a boxcar in a San Francisco railroad yard about eight days ago.

The injured man will remain at the hospital over night and will then be taken to the county hospital.

Former Richmond Woman Is Called

Friends yesterday learned of the death of Mrs. Adelaide McCarthy, a member of the St. George Presbyterian church and for six years president of the Women's Society of that church. Mrs. McCarthy died at her home in Alameda.

She moved to Alameda shortly after the death of her husband, about two years ago. Deceased was 74 years of age and was a native of Ohio.

Rev. C. Meryll Blah will officiate at funeral services Monday at Alameda.

Martinez Jeweler Is Expected To Be Star Witness For Defense

MARTINEZ, Feb. 29.—There will be two interesting developments Monday morning in the court of Judge A. F. Bray when the trial of Ruth M. McCord is resumed. First, as exclusively told in the Record-Herald Friday morning, the prosecution will be permitted to open its case. This will be for the purpose of proving that the check deposited in the Mechanics Bank in Richmond by Mrs. Iona Booth in Mrs. McCord's name, was money from county funds. The proof will be adduced through a stipulation entered into last Thursday.

Then Harry Court, Martinez jeweler, will take the stand as the first witness for the defense. He will testify that Mrs. McCord came to him on the 19th of November, 1935, and he told her the most he would loan on the 100 Jackson diamonds would be $240. She said that she could get a loan from other sources of $300 and he advised her to take it. He will also testify that the market for diamonds at that time was at its lowest point and since then they have increased 50 percent in value.

ATTACKS SECOND COUNT

Although the motion by Attorney Tom Carlson for an instructed verdict was denied by the court last Thursday afternoon, after the prosecution had completed its case, the lawyer opened his legal guns on the second count of the indictment, his contention being that it was necessary to have corroboration other than that of an accomplice to sustain the charge. With this contention Judge Bray agreed, but said that he would permit the prosecution to re-open its case on Monday for the purpose of offering sustaining proof.

A request by the district attorney that Attorney Carlson stipulate that certain persons would give the vital testimony was met with the reply that the barrister had two associates and it would first be necessary to confer with them before giving an answer.

Then, while the jury was enjoying a respite, one of those frequent "conferences," which have marked the progress of the trial, was held.

Damages Asked By Local Pair In Assault Case

MARTINEZ, Feb. 29.—Damages of $7,000 were asked today by Salvatore Gerletti and Ermina Gerletti of Richmond in a suit filed in superior court against Joseph Prestinari, 56, who is serving a term in the county jail here for assault.

The plaintiffs claim that on December 24, 1935, Prestinari assaulted Mrs. Gerletti, striking her over the head with a six foot length of two-inch pipe, causing laceration to her head. It is further stated that Mrs. Gerletti suffered a broken bone in her left arm when she raised her arm to fend off a blow.

Judgment of $5,000 for Mrs. Gerletti's injuries, is asked, $1,000 for hospitalization and $1,000 is asked by Gerletti for loss of his wife's society and comfort during the time she was hurt.

Attorney Will Robinson of Richmond represents the plaintiffs.

Local Police Aid Hunt For Escaped Felon

Richmond police and deputy sheriffs last night guarded the Richmond dock of the San Rafael ferry company in an effort to apprehend Alexander Niemany, 32, who escaped from San Quentin prison on hog farm yesterday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock.

A radio patrol car from the sheriff's office was sent to the Carquinez bridge in an effort to apprehend the prisoner who was still at large at 12 o'clock last night.

Niemany was missing at the afternoon checkup, and the alarm was sounded immediately. He was described as a port 3 inches tall weighing 165 pounds, fair complexion, gray eyes and brown hair.

Officials were unable to say how the convict escaped, and every section of the reservation was being combed on the theory he might not have been able to get away from the ranch, which is located north of the prison proper.

Guards were posted at all main highways and ferries in an effort to apprehend Niemany.

The convict was received from San Diego county on a grand theft charge. He was scheduled to be paroled last September, but was unable to obtain a job. His discharge date was fixed for September 15, 1937.

MANY MATTERS AWAIT COUNTY SUPERVISORS

MARTINEZ, Feb. 29.—District Attorney Francis Healey is scheduled to advise the supervisors at their meeting Monday whether they, as officials, have a legal right to question or intervene in a pending superior court action seeking to prohibit the East Bay Municipal Utility district from building a pipeline to serve water to the Crockett refinery of the California & Hawaiian Sugar company.

Healey's opinion was asked by the board at its last meeting after President M. T. Vandervelde of the San Ramon Valley Chamber of Commerce had presented a petition asking Healey be instructed to make an investigation of legal authority of the board, Vandervelde and the chamber declare that the California Water Service Corporation of the sugar refinery as a customer may result in an increase of rates to other patrons of the company.

Healey is also to rule upon a claim of Justice of the Peace L. F. Grover of San Pablo, who claims $255 in back salary is due him. Grover contends the population of his township is greater than that fixed by the supervisors and thus the greater population gives him a higher salary rating. It is understood the district attorney has ruled against the justice's claim.

Morie Huguet, member of the Contra Costa Safety Council will present to the supervisors a proposed ordinance, making drunkenness in unincorporated territory a misdemeanor. It is designed to strengthen the authority of officers and remedy a lack of a law permitting traffic officers to arrest drunken persons on the highways. It is patterned after an Alameda county law.

A number of routine matters are also scheduled for presentation.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

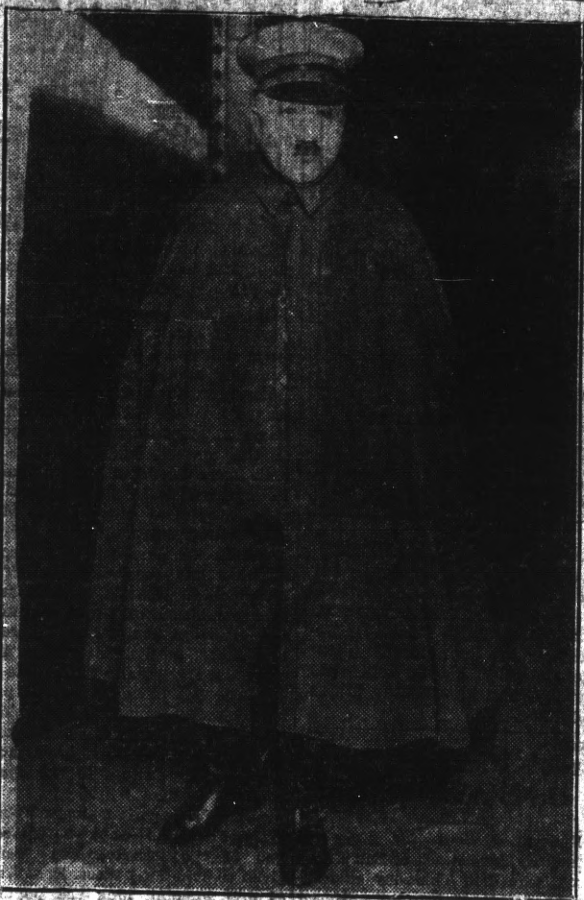

But now Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. See how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Listerine Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Victory Claim Is Voiced By Italian Report

ROME, Sunday, March 1.—UP—Virtual annihilation of all Ethiopian armies on the northern front was claimed early today in semi-official messages from Asmara.

The rout was said to have been completed by sundown Saturday. Earlier reports had contended that the combined armies of Ras Kassa and Ras Seyoum, a concentration of 45,000 warriors in the Tembien sector, were in the process of disintegration under the pressure of Marshal Pietro Badoglio's fighting machine.

The spectacular battle of the Tembien has been in progress since Friday morning and latest reports indicated the Ethiopians had been bottled up for several days in the region of Abbi Addi and Andino.

Observers here believed the Ethiopian forces apparently were weakened by their inability to obtain supplies from the south.

Seventeen Are Rescued From Sinking Boat

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29.—UP—Remains of 17 South Sea Islanders, whose schooner capsized in a hurricane between Pago Pago and Apia Samoa, was disclosed today by Robert Sunley, chief engineer of the Union Line freighter Hauraki.

Sunley said the natives, clinging to the hull of their craft, the Tifau, were almost exhausted. Work of rescue was handicapped by a ring of sharks surrounding the wrecked schooner and the objections of a delirious native priest, who spurned aid from the white men.

Sunley and the Hauraki skipper, Capt. Alfred Reed, said the hurricane struck the Tifau about 3 p. m. January 16, when the schooner was 60 miles out from Apia. The schooner's captain and three members of the crew retrieved a lifeboat and managed to reach Aiefaia, the nearest land, two days later.

The priest refused help from the Hauraki on the grounds it was a "devil ship" come to take the survivors of the wreck—10 men, five women and two children to the spirit world.

LIONS WOULD FINGERPRINT ALL DRIVERS

OAKLAND, Feb. 29.—The forces advocating adoption of a State-wide system of fingerprinting operators of automobiles, and filing the fingerprints both on licenses and with the motor vehicle department received a valuable ally today when the Golden Gate Council of Lions Clubs adopted a resolution favoring the procedure.

The Golden Gate Council of this civic organization is composed of clubs throughout the bay area. The fingerprinting system recommended by State motor vehicle authorities was brought to the attention of the clubs by Morris Hurley, former president of the Oakland Lions Club, and now president of the Eastbay Safety Council.

Hurley announced that the resolution would be taken to both northern and southern divisions of Lions Clubs for the State at their forthcoming meetings, and will also be submitted to the California-Nevada Lions convention to be held in Reno in the near future.

After this procedure, the fingerprinting proposal will be submitted to the International convention of Lions clubs, in the effort to have that organization recommend nation-wide fingerprinting of operators.

After pointing out the situation, the proposal resolves: "That the Golden Gate Council of Lions Clubs go on record as favoring the fingerprinting of all drivers and that we urge the Department of Motor Vehicles and Governor Merriam's Safety Committee to work toward incorporating a compulsory fingerprinting for motor vehicle drivers in the Motor Vehicle Code when the Legislature meets in Sacramento in 1937."

On Monday, Hurley, with a group of other safety representatives from the bay area, will attend a meeting in Sacramento of the State Wide Advisory Safety Committee, headed by Roy Ingels, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles. This committee already has gone on record favoring the compulsory fingerprinting of all automobile operators.

After the speech he will resume his eastward journey, bound for New York to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the New York Life Insurance Company.

Mate Disguises Self As Negro To Trail Wife

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Feb. 29.—UP—An attempt of James McMurtry, 22, San Bernardino, to track his wife as a negro, nearly caused his arrest at Mountain View last night but resulted in a reunion with his runaway wife, Margaret, 19, and his tiny baby.

McMurtry was in a restaurant when the operator became suspicious of his suspicious face and telephoned the sheriff's office.

According to deputies McMurtry explained "I'm not a bandit but I am trailing my wife. If the people who see me they will beat me up."

Just then Mrs. McMurtry came across the road from an auto-cab, bearing the baby, and after McMurtry had rubbed off some of his disguise the couple embraced and departed for San Bernardino.

Other male Lamson jurors are reported slightly irritated today because of their inability to get into Judge J. J. Trammell's courtroom to debate a further action.

COLMAN ROLE THE FINEST OF HIS CAREER

"A Tale of Two Cities" starring Ronald Colman comes to the Fox screen today at the head of a double program that includes John Wayne in "The Oregon Trail" roving action drama of the West.

Among the features of "A Tale of Two Cities" is an entertaining film the picture offers Ronald Colman in his most dramatic portrayal. As Sydney Carton, sadistic and brilliant wastrel, he reaches the top of his artistic career.

The story of "A Tale of Two Cities" is familiar to millions of readers. The producers have followed the historical past, the dramatic realism and the scope of the background of the story with artistry. The strange love story of Sydney Carton and Lucy Manette—a love that was doomed to frustration in life but which transcends death in its sublime majesty, is faithfully told.

Elizabeth Allan is Lucy and a large cast is seen in the 112 speaking roles. The famous characters of the Dickens novel are brought into living relief by the artists. Among the celebrities of the stage and screen are Edna May Oliver, Reginald Owen, Basil Rathbone, Blanche Yurka, Henry B. Walthall, Donald Woods, Walter Catlett, Fritz Leiber, H. B. Warner, Mitchell Lewis, Claude Gillingwater, Isabel Jewell, Tully Marshall and Robert Warwick. Over ten thousand extras were used in the picture.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 29.—UP—Paramount studio officials are faced with the problem of settling a civil war within their own "milky way" of stars.

It might be termed "The Battle of Young and Old."

Stars of voting age, and over, have almost reached the point of striking if they are forced to appear in pictures that include child featured players.

It's all a question of vanity and self-protection. They admit the latter and the former is evident.

The children usually steal the picture from their elders.

Specifically, the older stars are asking that the children have their own pictures and they be kept out of ours.

However, that can't be made an iron-clad rule, for story writers just now seem to be aware of children, and producers realize that children box-office attraction.

An example of exactly what happens is the case of Shirley Temple and Baby Letty.

When the producers of "Stand Up and Cheer" began casting the picture, they included a whole constellation. The curly-headed miss received a routine spot, and when the act was filmed she virtually was forgotten.

The picture had been released only a week when the billing was changed to something like this: "Shirley Temple in—"

(Maurice Chevalier and Jeannette MacDonald were starred in a picture titled "A Bedtime Story.") They were sure boxoffice hits and the bouncing baby that was necessary in the picture was just another prop.

But the public remembered Baby Leroy while large-lipped Chevalier departed shortly thereafter for home.

"David Copperfield" was a collection of stars. But the clipped accents of young Freddie Bartholomew stole the spotlight.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—UP—More than 150 suits seeking to share part of the one billion dollars of processing taxes have been filed in federal courts throughout the country. Internal Revenue Commissioner Guy T. Helvering estimates that 1,500,000 suits would be required to cover the disputed billion.

The most musical sound-lung name on the government roster is that of Golden W. Bell, an Assistant Solicitor General in the Justice Department. . . . Donald R. Hichberg, one-time "Assistant President" has resumed the practice of rail labor law. He has been employed by the Railroad Brotherhoods, whom he represented before becoming a government official, to formulate legislation to protect rail workers from loss of jobs through carrier consolidation. . . . A reminder of the "horse-and-lazy" era that stood a few rods from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation office has been replaced by a garage. . . . If Al Smith makes good his threat to "take a walk," he will be following an old Democratic precedent. As far back as 1818 a walk-out occurred in a Democratic convention, in New York, when two factions, the so-called Barnburners and Hunkers, became embroiled in a bitter fight over control of the state presidential delegation.

The convention voted to divide the delegation between the two groups, whereupon the Barnburners "took a walk."

Senator Norris of Nebraska has found a way he can listen to Senate debate and finish his cigar at the same time. He sits in the lobby doorway, just off the floor, holds the door open with his foot, and puffs away. . . . Before the next session of Congress convenes, there will be additional elevators installed to carry glimmers to Senate galleries. . . . Norris' TVA's model town is proposing to hire a community dentist, on salary to take care of TVA teeth. . . . Senator Pittman thought he had lost a silver plaque, valued at $800. It is an ornate silver disk, replica of the Aztec calendar, given to the silver Senator by E. Plutarco Calles of Mexico. It disappeared when Pittman asked to have it polished by his messenger. Pittman led a frantic search, found it in a drawer of his Foreign Relations Committee table.

School-boy temptation overcame Texas President Jack Garner of Texas the other day when he strolled past Senator Sheppard of Texas on the Senate floor. He put his hands in Sheppard's grey hair and ruffled it.

VICE-POPULAR
It seems that almost half the Republican presidential aspirants would like to have Jimmy Wadsworth of New York as vice-presidential running mate. Close friends of Wadsworth say he has received overtures from the camps of Governor Landon, Colonel Frank Knox and Senator Arthur Vandenberg. Attorney General Cummings has the most lavish and ornate office in Washington, but does no work in it. He uses a small study just behind it. "Trying to work in that big room," says Cummings, "is like having a desk in Union Station."

Plenty Of Action In 'China Sea' Film
Between dangerous thrills and dangerous romance, there is something doing every minute in "China Seas," the all-star Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer drama which opens today at the Richmond Theater.

The stars are Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery. It is a picture in which interest never slackens, and action never lags. It takes its place among the finest entertainment vehicles of the new screen season.

Part of the story is played in the howling fury of a tropical hurricane on the last frontier, the wild southeastern coast of Asia. It is one of the most spectacular sequences ever filmed.

"China Seas" deals with the odd love story of the hard-bitten young skipper of a coastwise liner, played by Gable, and "China Doll," a lovely wanderer in the Asiatic ports, played by Miss Harlow. Involved with them is a mysterious trader, Wallace Beery, who is suspected of being the master mind of a piracy plot.

NEW YORK INSIDE OUT By DON O'MALLEY

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—An art-conscious movement among the plain folk has hit New York with mounting rapidity.

Only a few years ago the master works of music, painting and the other arts were objects of attention only among certain self-conscious groups of specialists and students. Wall Street speculation was still the favorite indoor sport of the masses, and the concert halls were monopolized by ladies in horn-rimmed glasses taking special cultural courses at the schools and universities.

Within the past couple of years all that has been changed. The Metropolitan Museum of Art's current exhibition of Goya paintings, and drawings has attracted hordes of visitors, until on a Sunday afternoon it is virtually impossible to get near the walls to see the pictures. A few months ago the Museum of Modern Art's special show of Van Gogh paintings drew more than 100,000 visitors in the space of a few weeks.

At the Metropolitan Opera House, Wagner's works—once the esoteric god of the initiated—are being sold to sold-out houses. Even Verdi and Puccini, long the popular favorites, are being shelved in favor of the German master. Toscanini's performances with the Philharmonic, especially since the news of his retirement, have packed Carnegie Hall to the last seat.

If this continues, Joe Louis will have to take up modernistic dancing.

SNICKS: Where do the retired actresses go when they quit the Midway's boards? Well, Maxine Elliott and her toothless monkey still reign supreme in her palatial villa at Cannes, France. Olga Petrova grows flowers at her villa on the way from Cannes to San Raphael. Sort of lasking in the sun. Vic Erwin can remember the day, way back before radio, when you could whistle the entire chorus of a song before it became a back number. FEAR RULE IS SCORED BY LANDON tended for the deserving," Landon said. "The time has come to call a halt on such politically inspired fear. Let us, as Republicans, make it clear to the needy everywhere that the changes we pledge will bring order out of chaos by purging the federal relief administration of partisanship, of waste and of incompetence. In short, what we propose is to make relief both honest and effective."

Governor Landon reminded his audience in the first public address since the Kansas day celebration at Topeka, when he indicated his suitability as a nominee, that the public faces a problem in regular government employment as well as in relief work. He assailed the new deal treatment of civil service workers and demanded that the merit system be restored.

He said that it was imperative that the nation put its housekeeping in order; that it must cease to spend more than it can afford.

"A leaky engine cannot pick up speed. If we are overburdened by debt, we cannot go forward. We must persevere until we have balanced our budget."

"After all however liberal we are, whatever progressive instincts tempt and inspire us, common sense and sound policy tell us that we can only be as liberal as we can afford to be and pay our debts and live in decent self respect."

"Unpleasant though it may be, we must heed the warning from year after year of federal deficits. Waste, extravagance and indecision will not remedy slipshod national housekeeping. If persisted in, those recurring deficits inevitably will lead to one of two courses."

"One way," he said "is inflation. That is a primrose path at the beginning, but there is an inescapable pitfall at the end."

The other "wasteful way out of this financial mess," he said, is the imposition of federal taxes more severe than any before known.

"But courageous leadership can blaze a third path. This road leads to economy and sound administration. It leads to the re-employment of millions of men and women. If we have the courage to take this road we must make a far more intelligent use of the federal budgetary system than is now being done. There must be a more effective budget-making by the executive. Congress must find a way to consider federal expenditures as a whole, rather than as isolated and apparently unrelated expenditures."

The result is that Monday morning the necessary testimony to bolster up the count will be offered.

MRS. MCCORD TO TESTIFY

The legal gap having been plugged, the defense will open its case, which is expected to be very brief.

There has been much speculation as to whether Mrs. McCord would be called to the stand, but all doubt was dispelled on this score by the announcement of Attorney Carlson that the defendant positively would testify in her own behalf.

County officials, it is expected, will be called to show the amount of money that passed through the hands of Mrs. McCord during her years of incumbency as social service director and to prove through testimony that all funds had been accounted for to the last cent.

It is also expected, although no commitment has been made, that a number of character witnesses will be put on the stand.

There will be little, if any rebuttal testimony. Instructions, to be given to the jury, have already been prepared, and will be read to the jury upon the completion of arguments by the attorneys.

Unless something unexpected intervenes to delay the trial beyond present expectations the case should be submitted to the jury by closing time Monday afternoon.

FREE FROM BICKERING

The trial has been remarkably free from bickering between attorneys. One or twice an exchange of caustic remarks began but was halted at once by admonitions from the court that argument between counsel was not "cricket" in his estimation.

FALL FROM GRACE

The district attorney once forgot that "the man who ruleth his temper is greater than he that taketh a city," while Attorney Carlson betrayed the presence of Irish blood in his veins when an offer was made by him to stipulate to certain facts and the district attorney curtly informed him that he would "run the case in his own way and without help from opposing counsel." However these verbal passages really did not mean anything, for during recesses their attitude plainly showed that they were brothers under the skin.

CONFLICTING OPINIONS

There is a wide divergence of opinion as to the kind of verdict the jury will return. Some contend that Mrs. McCord will be found guilty, in other quarters it is argued that she will be acquitted within a few minutes after the jury retires; while still another group claims no agreement will be reached; in other words that there will be a hung jury.

HOSTILITY FELT

Although there has been no open evidence of it, many have remarked that there seems to be a feeling of hostility among the women spectators toward the defendant.

Whether Mrs. McCord sensed this, it is impossible to say, but it was apparent the first day of the trial that she was very nervous and upset. However that condition could easily be explained as natural when her liberty was at issue.

The second day she seemed to have recovered her composure to a great extent and seemed to enjoy as much as anyone else in the courtroom a number of amusing incidents that occurred. Several times she made notes in a small book, which she carries in her purse, and then imparted whispered information to her counsel.

Today's Safe Driving Hint

By The National Safety Council

THE RIGHT OF WAY

Our graveyards are heavily populated with motorists who sailed along serenely under the false colors of the right-of-way banner.

Actually, the term "Right-of-Way" as a hard and fast rule to follow is as old-fashioned as auto cranks and linen dusters. It's all right when you have the right of way to keep going at the intersection, but keep your car under control because the other fellow may think he has it, too. Don't place too much faith in him. If he doesn't stop as he should, then you must be able to stop or there will be a smashup.

Substitute in your traffic vocabulary the axiom that there is a "Safe Way" for every emergency. Learn to depend upon the "Safe Way" and you will never be killed in a futile attempt to defend the right-of-way.

he denied that special precautions were being taken against kidnapers of the baby. The fear of kidnapping, he said, would not prevent the family from returning to the United States.

"Kidnapers certainly will not prevent us from going to America if we want to when the baby is old enough," he said. "Gangsters, kidnapers and other racketeers never worried Barbara. In New York she used to leave the house alone and take walks in public gardens without guard or escort."

STAY IN LONDON

"We have settled in London and are going to stay. Of course we shall take holidays—in America when nostalgia seizes my wife, and in Denmark when she feels inclined towards the bracing freshness of country life."

"It is all nonsense to say the servants are guarding the front door and are doing so because of kidnapers. I have had to take steps to insure having privacy in my own house, that is all."

He said the child's name has not yet been decided but "the Countess and I are very fond of Peter."

Dave's Lawyer Declares State Has Muffed Case

SAN JOSE, Feb. 29.—(UP)—Leo R. Friedman, the third attorney employed by David Lamson, former Stanford student, to win his fight against charges of murder, announced today the defense would present only a skeleton case, confident the state had not proved Lamson killed his wife Allene.

"No one has placed the pipe (named by the state as the slaying weapon) in Lamson's hands," Friedman said in announcing a change in strategy.

"No one has proved there ever was blood on the pipe. No one has shown Lamson to have been elsewhere than in the back yard of his home on the day Mrs. Lamson died."

"In fact the state has failed to prove anything except that Mrs. Lamson is dead."

Members of the Richmond Merchants Association are rapidly completing plans for the spring opening ceremonies to be held next week.

According to A. A. Alstrom, secretary of the association, it is planned to connect the spring opening with a gift event in which all portions of the stores during Thursday, Friday and Saturday will participate in a generous offering of prizes.

Alstrom announced that much progress has been made in the plan of the association to foster unity among business and professional interests in the community by uniting with the association affiliated groups of business people in the city.
